

PRESS RELEASE

ELO Digital Office will be presenting itself as an employer at Stuttgart's Night of the Companies ("Nacht der Unternehmen"):

Open doors for graduates with an entrepreneurial spirit

Stuttgart, 24 October 2011 - ELO Digital Office will be participating in the second Night of the Companies on November 30 in Stuttgart. University graduates and students on this evening will have the opportunity to get to know potential employers from the Stuttgart region. The goal of the event is to find well-qualified professionals in the region. The "Haus der Wirtschaft" (House of Industry) is providing a platform for all participating companies to present themselves. Directly following the event, job hunters will be able to get a first-hand impression of their preferred companies. Shuttle busses will provide transportation to and from the locations. For this very reason, ELO will be open to all interested visitors until 9:30 p.m.

Stuttgart as a location has more to offer than Bosch, Mercedes, and Porsche. But many graduates—especially those in the areas of mathematics, information technology, and the natural sciences—are often unaware of the numerous varieties of career opportunities available in mid-sized companies. This is the idea behind the Night of the Companies: to give both students and companies the chance to "step into the spotlight."

The Night of the Companies provides ELO with the possibility of presenting itself as an attractive employer. Just as importantly, it is a good chance to demonstrate the enormous potential there is in the area of enterprise content management (ECM). Employees with vision will find here an enormous playground on which they can give their creativity free rein. At the same time, ELO is wanting to get a close look at the graduates in order to gain new, qualified employees. ELO has been growing continuously since its founding. Already this year, 17 new employees have been hired. Additional openings are waiting for suitable applicants.
